Grand revival of Old DC Office as Heritage Museum

Under Swadesh Darshan 2.0, iconic building to become a cultural landmark; DPR approved; Tender process begins, says Tourism Director Dr. K.V. Rajendra

A view of Old Deputy Commissioner's Office, Mysuru.

Mysuru, Mar. 18 (RK&BCT)- The Old Deputy Commissioner's (DC) Office (Attara Kacheri) in the heart of the city is set to become a new tourist attraction under the Central Government's Swadesh Darshan 2.0 scheme, with plans to transform the Wadiyar-era heritage structure into a museum gaining momentum.

Plans are underway to repurpose the historic building into a museum showcasing Mysuru's rich history and heritage. The Narendra Modi Government is sanctioning Rs. 80 crore per tourist location under the Swadesh Darshan 2.0 scheme.

Dr. Rajendra

The Detailed Project Report (DPR) has been prepared after the project has been approved at the Government-level and tenders have been called. Work order will be issued once the tenders are finalised, Tourism Department Director Dr. K.V. Rajendra, who earlier served as the Mysuru Deputy Commissioner, told Star of Mysore.

The Karnataka Tourism Infrastructure Limited is the implementation agency, with the DPR prepared by Deloitte and Arcadis IBI Group. In the first phase of works under Swadesh Darshan, projects like the Tonga ride experience, which will cost Rs. 2.3 crore and the ecological experience, which will cost Rs. 18.5 crore, have been decided to implement.

DPR envisages Vista Street, Heritage Integration

Mysuru, Mar. 18 (RK&BCT) Following the relocation of the DC Office to the new District-level Office Complex at Siddarthanagar in June 2023, calls to repurpose the unused old DC Office as a museum gained traction, given the heritage significance of the 129-year-old building, constructed during the reign of the 23rd Maharaja of Mysore, Chamaraja Wadiyar X.

The Detailed Project Report (DPR) envisages:

Public art & installations

According to the DPR, art will be central to Vista Street's identity around the Old DC Office, with murals, sculptures and interactive installations enriching the visitor experience.

Vibrant street art depicting Mysuru's history, iconic landmarks and cultural motifs will beautify walls, while sculptures of historical figures like the Wadiyar rulers and Tipu Sultan will honour the city's legacy.

Interactive installations, such as a digital map of historic Mysuru, sculptures playing Karnatak music, will engage visitors on multiple sensory levels. Installations aligned with festivals like Dasara will ensure a fresh and dynamic experience.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

THE PROMETHEUS TRAP: The other day I fell into the Prometheus trap; or rather, my car did. When the ignition button was pressed the engine wouldn't start. Bunny suggested we use the ignition key to start it. I said that our three-year-old car doesn't have an old-fashioned ignition key. It has a battery-operated fob that opens and shuts the vehicle's doors and starts the engine.

On that day the fob wouldn't work because the battery was dead. So for the sake of a two-rupee battery, a large and complex machine costing several lakhs had been rendered totally useless.

Fortunately, we had a spare battery at home and we managed to get the car moving and be on our way. But what if we hadn't been at home, but on some desolate nocturnal highway and the fob had decided to go on strike, leaving us stranded, at the mercy of prowling brigands and assorted anti-social elements?

That's when I thought of Prometheus, the Greek god who gifted fire to humankind, which provoked a wrathful Zeus, the CEO of Gods Inc, to punish the gift-giver by chaining him to a rock where his liver was daily snacked upon by an eagle.

The gift of Prometheus, the patron of arts and sciences, liberated humans from the dark confines of night, enabling them by the light of the flame to keep awake and have extra time to think and invent things.

And the next thing you knew, we'd gone and invented the wheel, and then a car to put the wheels on, and then a car with not an ignition key, but a battery fob to start it with. Which it won't do if the battery's defunct.

Thanks to the Promethean flame of creativity, we have internet, and X, and deepfakes, and the multi-billion-dollar enterprise of cyber fraud.

The spark of fire gave rise to molecular science, the splitting of the atom, and nuclear energy, and warheads that can annihilate all of humanity.

Technological advancement is like an enormous unstoppable boulder rolling downhill, gathering speed as it does. That's the Promethean trap. Which is also known as Progress.

Youngest pensioner retires at 23

Moscow: At age 16, Pavel Stepchenko joined the school of Russia's Ministry of Internal Affairs and by age 23, he had already retired, becoming the country's youngest pensioner.

Retirement is associated with old age, that usually means retiring by age 40 or so.

Well, one Russian youth managed to do something most of us can only dream of – retire with a full pension in his early 20s.

Pavel Stepchenko began working in the territorial division of the internal affairs system. The young man worked there for two years, because at age 23, he officially retired, taking full advantage of a special provision stating that for each month of service during a period of martial law, a person received three months of credited length of service.

World's smallest bridge is 19 ft. long

El Marco: El Marco, a small rustic bridge connecting the to the Portuguese village of Varzea Grande, is the world's smallest international bridge.

The El Marco wooden Bridge is 19 ft. long and 4.7 ft. Once a simple "improvised pier" that allowed trade between smugglers from Spain and Portugal, the current form of El Marco dates back to 2008, when it was built using community funds. The Schengen Accord made crossing between the two EU countries free and easy for everyone, so smuggling was no longer necessary.

Because of its small size, El Marco only allows pedestrian traffic and two-wheel vehicles, like bicycles, scooters motorcycles. Apart from the locals who use it to travel between El Marco and Varzea Grande, the world's smallest international bridge is also a popular tourist attraction.

REALLY...?

- Greater roadrunners inhabit the Mojave and Sonoran deserts in North America and primarily live in deserts. This species is not great at flying and is only capable of getting air for a couple of seconds. Running is how they get around, and great roadrunners can quickly reach speeds near 26 mph.
- Ravens are a bird that can survive in a desert. Their bodies are great at regulating heat, and the raven's diet of bugs, carrion, and eggs help them gain water in the dry habitat. The jet-black colouring of the raven makes them stand out. They have around 25 inches and a 3.5 to 4-foot wingspan.

Relocate the FlyBus parking location

Sir,

I would like to express my appreciation for the FlyBus service operated by KSRTC between Mysuru Sub-urban Bus Stand and Kempegowda International Airport (KIA), Bengaluru.

This service has been immensely convenient, especially for international travellers. However, I wish to bring to the attention of the KSRTC Divisional Commissioner and other authorities the significant inconvenience faced by passengers at the Mysuru Sub-urban Bus Stand due to the current boarding and de-boarding location.

Many passengers, particularly international travellers, carry heavy luggage and navigating through the crowded bus stand while manoeuvring their baggage is extremely difficult. The presence of stranded buses further adds to their hardship.

Additionally, families who come to drop off or pick up passengers struggle to find parking space near the bus stand, causing further inconvenience.

In the light of this, I request KSRTC authorities to consider shifting the FlyBus boarding and parking point to the space opposite Joyalukkas Jewellery Shop, adjacent to the Government Guest House compound.

This location offers ample space, making it easier for passengers to board and unload their luggage conveniently. It will also provide a hassle-free parking space for families accompanying their loved ones.

I sincerely hope this request is considered in the larger interest of travellers and that necessary steps are taken to relocate the FlyBus stop to a more accessible and convenient location. If implemented, this facility will greatly benefit passengers and enhance their overall travel experience.

INTERNATIONAL WOMEN'S DAY SPECIAL...

From Classroom to Camera...

After a brief stint in teaching, Mysurean Akshata Ganesh passionately follows her dream of acting and cinema

By S.N. Venkatnag Sobers

She is a shining example of a woman achieving her dream of becoming an actress while balancing her roles as a teacher, wife and mother. Having established herself as a successful English teacher at Dhirubhai Ambani International School in Mumbai, Akshata Ganesh has now stepped into acting — a passion she has nurtured since her college days in Mysuru.

Today, she is widely recognised for her portrayal of 'Savithri' in the popular television serial 'Antharapata.' On International Women's Day, Star of Mysore celebrates the achievements of this versatile actor, dedicated teacher and devoted mother.

A post-graduate in English from the University of Mysore, Akshata pursued a teaching career at the prestigious Dhirubhai Ambani International School, where she and her husband, Nishanth Nagavar, were part of the English faculty.

Among their students were children of renowned personalities, including Mukesh Ambani, Sachin Tendulkar, Shah Rukh Khan, Juhi Chawla, Hrithik Roshan and Saif Ali Khan.

"Nishanth and I were invited for an interview in 2005, and both of us were selected to join the English Department at Dhirubhai Ambani International School. My time there was an incredible learning experience, shaping me both personally and professionally. I was fortunate to attend some of the best workshops across the world, which significantly enriched my journey as a teacher. For this, I am forever grateful to the school administration," says Akshata Ganesh.

Pull towards acting

After a decade of working as an educator in Mumbai, Akshata Ganesh felt an undeniable pull toward acting. This passion led her to enroll in 'Actor Prepares,' the renowned acting institute run by Anupam Kher. Balancing her professional and personal commitments, Akshata travelled daily from Bandra (East) to Santa Cruz (West) for her acting classes, which ran from 6 pm to 9 pm.

Despite her demanding schedule, her dedication to teaching never wavered. While pursuing her acting course, she volunteered at 'School of Life,' an NGO providing free education to underprivileged children. "It was Anupam Kher who introduced me to 'School of Life.' Knowing that I was a teacher, he told me about the NGO and the teacher in me just couldn't say no. I used to visit the school during my free time and teach the kids," shares Akshata.

First cameo role

Akshata credits her maternal grandmother, Sheela Bopaiah, for encouraging her to follow her dreams. Though she had trained at a prestigious acting school under a legendary actor, breaking into the film industry was far from easy. After enduring multiple auditions, she landed a cameo role in a stage play directed by Akash Khurana, a noted actor and director.

MP calls for collective efforts to restore Mysuru's Cleanest City rank

Mysuru, Mar. 18 (BCT)- Mysuru-Kodagu MP Yaduveer Krishnadatta Chamaraja Wadiyar has urged collective efforts to restore Mysuru's position as the Cleanest City in India.

Speaking at the 'Clean Chamundi Hill Drive 2025' organised by the Gandhadagudi Foundation at Chamundi Hill on Sunday, Yaduveer launched the initiative by collecting trash and stressing the need to maintain the Hill's pristine environment.

"Mysuru was ranked the Cleanest City in India in 2015 and 2016 but has now slipped to the 25th or 26th position. Other cities have made significant progress, surpassing us in cleanliness. Small changes in our habits can help us reclaim the top spot," he said.

He emphasised responsible waste disposal, urging residents not to litter plastic on roadsides, open spaces, or public areas. Instead, he encouraged people to dispose of garbage as per municipal guidelines and to avoid throwing plastic or food wrappers from moving vehicles. "Carry waste home, segregate it, and hand it over to Municipal workers," he advised.

Efforts are underway to relocate certain waste disposal sites like the Excel Plant at Vidyaranyapuram and improve waste management. With reduced waste and better sanitation, Mysuru can regain its former rank, he said, adding that the city should be kept as clean as the recently tidied Chamundi Hill surroundings.

The event was attended by Gandhadagudi Foundation Honorary President Nagendra Prasad, State President Aryan Gandhadagudi, State Vice-President Manohar Gowda, Bengaluru City President Siddeshwar Prasad, Young Army Foundation President Prithviraj, M.D. Madhushankar of Never Fade Away and others, including Dushyant, Pradeep, Abhinandan Urs, Meghna Raj, Venugopal, and Mahadeva Shetty.

NSS volunteers clean heritage Panchalingeshwara Temple

Mysuru, Mar. 18 (BCT)- The NSS Unit of GSSS Simha Subbamahalakshmi First Grade College, Mysuru, conducted a Heritage Temple Clean Drive at the historic Panchalingeshwara Temple in Somanathapura, T. Narasipur Taluk.

Led by NSS Program Officers Puneethkumar and Namratha Raj, along with Staff Incharge Ravikiran, the initiative saw active participation from 50 NSS volunteers.

As part of the drive, volunteers cleared waste, swept the temple premises and ensured the surroundings were well-maintained. The campaign aimed to raise awareness about heritage conservation and environmental responsibility, encouraging the community to take an active role in preserving cultural landmarks.

Temple authorities and local residents lauded the efforts of the NSS team, appreciating their dedication to maintaining the temple's historic and spiritual significance.

The initiative not only fostered a sense of teamwork and social responsibility among the students but also underscored the importance of collective efforts in safeguarding heritage sites. It served as a model for youth-driven community service, demonstrating the power of student participation in cleanliness drives and heritage conservation.

A pink bloom in city...

Mysuru, Mar. 18 (PM&BS)- The Cultural Capital Mysuru, which is known for the enchanting beauty of its natural environs, has now got a fillip with the spread of a floral carpet. It is indeed a visual treat to catch the sight of the flower petals adorning the surface of the streets, a perfect backdrop for selfies.

The flower bearing trees belonging to different species, signal the arrival of the autumn season, what with its aroma of flowers. Most of the trees in the city belong to the family of Tabebuia, commonly known as the Yellow or Pink Trumpet tree, for the flowers akin to a trumpet.

Such trees can be seen dotting the either side of the footpath on Mysuru-Bogadi Main Road, Vishwamanava Double Road, Vijayanagar to name a very few among several prominent roads in the city, that have been catching the attention of passersby.

The flowers in different colours like Purple, Red and Rose colour have created a world of flowers, with Yellow topping all, followed by the Pink colour flowers.

It is during this season of the year, the trees start shedding leaves and the new leaves sprout, all encompassing the branches of the tree, a sight to behold the eyes, spreading a feeling of joy among those who catch the sight of these natural attractions.

The tree commonly known as the "Tabebuia" or "Pink Trumpet Tree" (Tabebuia rosea) is native to Central and South America, with the scientific name Tabebuia rosea. It will grow either in small or medium size, with the stump of the tree leaning and having a cracked body, commonly growing up to 15 feet to 25 feet tall.

Mysuru, Mar. 18 (BLU&BS)- The pre-wedding photo shoots that had found a perfect spot near the world renowned Mysore Palace and its surroundings, have now shifted to exotic locales in the outskirts, with the serene Varuna Lake, being the pick of many couples, ahead of embracing marital bliss.

The couples boating in the Lake has become a regular feature, posing for the shutter bugs, but on the flip side, the lack of adequate safety measures, remain a matter of concern.

With Mysuru being the heritage city, there is no dearth of such structures of bygone era, that stand as a testimony to regal past, reminding of the princely rule of Wadiyar dynasty. Similarly, the natural environs, with immeasurable visual beauty are also in abundance, that had once made Mysuru, a perfect shooting spot for the film crews, irrespective of language.

For the new found fad in pre-wedding photo shoots, that has become a must, irrespective of the urban or rural weddings, the Chamaraja Wadiyar Circle opposite the North gate of the Palace and the roads in the vicinity, were seen brimming with the soon to marry couples,

"We are not aware of pre-wedding photo shoots at Varuna Lake, without adopting any safety measures. We will send our staff and collect the information about the happenings, before initiating any action, besides lodging a Police complaint."

— Kumar Aradhya, Panchayat Development Officer (PDO), Varuna Gram Panchayat

dressed in new outfits, waiting for their turn at the crack of the dawn. Apart from the couples in Mysuru, the couples from outside the district, were descending on the city, zeroing in on Mysuru to capture the memorable moments of their lives in lens.

Now, there is a sudden shift in location, from the heart of the city to Varuna Lake, where the streak of sun rays during the sunrise hitting the water and the silhouette frames during the sunset, have turned into a new attraction.

The couples posing in different angles, holding their hands in the shape of a heart or standing close, during the sunset, are largely shared on social media.

The eastern and western side of the Lake that leads to JSS Teachers Layout is the landing spot, where the couples can be regularly seen, boating in the water, for the photo shoot.

However, the safety measures are thrown into the wind, with the couples not wearing the life jackets, to avoid missing a perfect shot in showy dresses. Such blatant attitude of the couples remind of the grim incident of a couple from Kyathamaranahalli in the city, who paid with their lives, when the photo shoot went awry, as the coracle capsized, while being filmed in river Cauvery at Talkad in T. Narasipur district in November 2020.

It is common for any cameraman, either a photographer or a videographer, to direct the couples to pose, but who shall be held accountable if any tragedy occurs in water? It would be better, if the District Administration wakes up, before anything grave strikes, by taking adequate security measures during boating in the Lake, urge the locals.

Rs. 200 swindled from each couple!

Amid this, it is said that, some of the locals are making hay, by swindling Rs. 200 in the name of Shakti Swaroopini Hundi Maramma Temple, from each of the couples arriving for the photo shoot at Varuna Lake, as acknowledged by the Temple Priest V.N. Basavanna.

Varuna Prashanth, a JD(S) leader, has demanded that the Varuna Grama Panchayat (GP) should take safety measures at the Lake and also charge fees for the couples, and a part of the sum can be donated to the temple.

Strangely, GP officials, jurisdictional Police personnel and Water Resources Department have kept mum, despite the hustle and bustle around the Lake, where no permission should be given for any shooting, considering the vast expanse of the Lake area and the risk, if anything goes upside down.

Apply caution before any untoward incident

The couples wait with curiosity, to seal the moment for a perfect shot during the sunset. As the sunset time varies up to 7 pm, the couples prolong their stay, unaware of what may befall in the secluded place that is. The miscreants waiting to target the gullible couples, cannot be ignored, especially in the backdrop of a gang rape of a student, who along with her boyfriend was attacked by a gang of miscreants, at a eerie spot in Lalithadripura near Chamundi Hill a few years ago.

Taking a cue from the past incidents, the District Administration should rein in such activities. So also the parents of the couples, who should be aware of the pitfalls, before sending their sons or daughters to the photo shoot.

Malavalli food poisoning case

Meghalaya Govt. deputes two officials to Karnataka seeking report into death of students

Shillong, Mar. 18 (UNI)- The Meghalaya Government has deputed two officials to visit Karnataka and submit a detailed report into the death of a 13-year-old student from the North-Eastern State following suspected food poisoning, an official said on Monday.

Twenty-nine other students are hospitalised and seven students remain in critical condition, after a suspected food poisoning incident at an alleged unauthorised hostel at T. Kagepura village in Karnataka's Mandya district.

The students experienced severe vomiting, diarrhoea and dehydration. The deceased has been identified as Khrehlang Khongtani, a Class VI student from Lyndem village, Pynursla Civil Sub-Division in Meghalaya's East Khasi Hills district. Khongtani died on Sunday at the Mandya Institute of Medical Sciences.

Meanwhile, another student from Meghalaya died at a hospital in Mysuru last night.

According to reports, the incident occurred at a residential facility operated by Gokul Educational Institution, which has been functioning without a valid hostel licence since 1989.

Director of School Education and Literacy, Swapnil Tembe said Inspector of Schools and Sub-Divisional School Education Officer P. Sunn and R. Kharsyntiew from District MIS, PM - POSHAN have been deputed to visit Karnataka to coordinate with the concerned District Administration and also with the parents of all the children from Meghalaya.

The hostel, housing 30 students primarily from Meghalaya and Nepal, was located on the first floor of the school building, reportedly lacking adequate infrastructure, including proper sanitation.

Reports indicate the students were served leftover vegetable pulao and chutney from a Holi celebration feast held in Malavalli on Friday.

Karnataka Police have arrested the hotel proprietor Siddaraju, Secretary/Head Master of the School Lankesh and hostel incharge Abhishek.

The trio have been booked under Sections 286 and 106 of the Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita (BNS), relating to negligent conduct with poisonous substances and causing grievous hurt by act endangering life or personal safety of others.

Meghalaya Director General of Police (DGP) Idashisha Nongrang said that the State Police is in touch with Mandya Superintendent of Police (SP). The deceased boy's body has been released and is being transported to Meghalaya.

Forcing minor girl into flesh trade

Three persons including a woman sentenced to 20 years jail

Mysuru, Mar. 18 (RK&TRR)- City's Additional District and Sessions FTSC-I (Special Court for trial of cases filed under POCSO ACT) has sentenced three persons including a woman to 20 years rigorous imprisonment besides imposing a fine of Rs. 10,000 each after they were found guilty of forcing minor girl into flesh trade.

Rekha, a resident of Chikkanahallipura in K.R. Pet taluk, Raghavendra of Srirangapatna and Umesh of Pura village are the three persons who were sentenced.

Other two accused in the case, Leelavathi and Lalitha, were released under Probation of Offenders (PO) ACT on condition that they will live as law abiding citizens in future. Among other accused, Girish is absconding and a separate case is already pending against him, Abhishek, Shivaramu and Siddarama have died during the period of trial.

On Aug. 10, 2020, Leelavathi, Siddaraju and Lalitha has forcefully got a 16-year-old minor girl marry one Abhishek at Sri Anjeyaswamy Temple at Hulivana village in Mandya district. Later, the girl left the home and took shelter with one Raghavendra, who later shifted her to the house of Rekha, who in turn kept the married minor girl at a rented house in Bhyraveshwara Nagar in Mysuru, where she pushed the minor girl into flesh trade and used to earn money.

After, some days Rekha and Girish sold the girl to one Umesh of Pura village for Rs. 4,000. Umesh, who took the girl to his farm house, sexually assaulted her and later housed her in a lodge and earned money by involving the minor girl in flesh trade.

Based on the complaint from the minor girl's mother, Hebbal Police, who registered a case, transferred the case to city's Women's Police Station.

The then Inspector, who conducted an investigation, filed a case against nine persons and submitted a chargesheet to the Court.

Additional District and Sessions Judge FTSC-I (Special Court for trial of cases filed under POCSO ACT) Anand P. Hogade, who heard the arguments from both sides, found the three accused guilty and sentenced them to 20 years rigorous imprisonment.

Special Public Prosecutor K.B. Jayanthi argued on behalf of the Government.

Alleged assault: Conductor lodges complaint against driver

Mysuru, Mar. 18 (SBD&KS)- A KSRTC bus conductor has lodged a Police complaint against the driver accusing the latter of abusing using foul language and assaulting him. The conductor, who had lodged the complaint, is Appaiah while the accused driver is Dayanand, both attached to Madikeri KSRTC Depot.

On Mar. 13, when both were on duty in Madikeri-Mysuru-Bengaluru bus, a quarrel broke out between them at Sub-Urban Bus Stand in city over a petty issue.

According to the complaint, conductor Appaiah had gone to get the ticket entry done from the TC and by the time he came to the bus, driver Dayanand had started the bus and abused Appaiah for coming late. Though Appaiah told Dayanand that the TC was held up with work and hence it took a little extra time to get the entry done.

Later, Appaiah distributed tickets to passengers near Five Lights Circle Junction and stood near the bonnet of the bus, during which driver Dayanand reportedly picked up a fight with Appaiah and allegedly assaulted him.

Appaiah has further stated in the complaint that he then called his higher officials, reported about the incident, consumed painkiller tablets and completed his duty. The next day, Appaiah noticed that his hand was swollen and went to Madikeri District Hospital and following doctors' advice, he got himself admitted for a day and took treatment, Appaiah stated in his complaint to the Police.

Akshata's breakthrough after struggle

"The journey as an actor was challenging. Having spent over a decade in one of the country's most prestigious educational institutions, transitioning into films and television was anything but smooth. But looking back, I have no regrets. The experience has been incredibly fulfilling. Watching legendary actors like Naseeruddin Shah and Ratna Pathak Shah prepare and perform on stage was truly enriching," says Akshata.

Her breakthrough came after days of struggle, when she landed a role in an advertisement for a detergent brand alongside the late Irrfan Khan. The ad earned her industry recognition, catching the eye of a casting director who offered her another commercial.

This paved the way for bigger opportunities, eventually leading her to roles in 'Raaz 3,' 'Hate Story 2,' and 'Hate Story 3' — all while continuing her teaching career at Dhirubhai Ambani International School.

Days after gaining recognition in the film industry, Akshata Ganesh made the bold decision to quit her teaching career and step into acting full-time. She landed a significant role in the popular television series 'Crime Patrol - Dastak,' which resonated with audiences across the country.

While deeply engaged in the series, fate intervened, calling her back home. A casting director approached Akshata for Season 2 of the hit Kannada comedy soap 'Silli Lalli,' directed by 'Sihi Kahi' Chandru.

She took on the role of 'Lalithamba,' which brought her widespread popularity among Kannada television viewers. Now, she is set to appear as 'Nandini' in the upcoming Zee Kannada serial 'Shravani Subramanya.'

Towards empowerment

Beyond acting, Akshata strongly believes in women's empowerment and has personally taken steps to support it. She has been instrumental in helping her housemaid, Manjula, become literate. Manjula, who was once illiterate, is now learning to read and write — thanks to Akshata's efforts to ensure she attends Kannada tuition for two hours every day.

"I want women to be independent and live life on their terms. Every woman deserves access to basic education, opportunities in sports or training in life skills so that they can achieve financial independence," says Akshata.

Hailing from Mysuru, Akshata is the daughter of Pandanda Subbaiah Ganesh and Anita Ganesh, residents of Bamboo Bazaar, Tilaknagar. She is married to Nishanth Nagavar, Vice-Principal at Greenwood High International, Bengaluru. The couple has a son, Aanyav Nagavar. Her in-laws are Prof. Kalegowda Nagavara and Kempamma.

Women's Day fete at Vasanth Mahal

'Become self-reliant, marry later'

Mysuru, Mar. 18 (BLU&BS)- Dr. H.M. Kalashree of Samata Adhyayana Kendra, Mysuru, has said that every woman should be educated and become self-reliant before entering into wedlock.

She was speaking during the International Women's Day celebrations organised at Sri Radhakrishna Hall, Vasanth Mahal, in city recently.

"If women become educated and self-reliant, she can face the challenges in marital life efficiently. In the present situation, it is inevitable for the husband and wife to understand each other and lead a life. No man has the courage to live without depending on a woman. There is a woman behind every man who has notable achievement in his life," she said.

Women should face all the challenges in the society efficiently, instead of showing their weaker side by shedding tears, advised Dr. Kalashree.

Earlier women were treated as a lifeless creature, but even in such a situation, several women overcame challenges and achieved in their lives. The condition of women has changed now, with several of them achieving in various fields. In this wake, the Women's Day celebration reflects the pride and respect of women, she observed.

Narrating the plight of the women nowadays, Dr. Kalashree said, "My grandmother had eight children, my mother four and myself has only one child. As the generation passed, the level of independence enjoyed by women has increased, thus coming out of restrictions."

President of Samata Adhyayana Kendra Dr. Sabiha Bhoomigowda said, women should not depend on others to increase her strength. She should write her own history or else the womenfolk will fade into oblivion.

Joint Director of College of Teacher Education (CTE), Vasanth Mahal, H.N. Geethambha, Assistant Professor Dr. G.K. Prema and faculty of CTE Moly Verghese were present.

WORD OF THE DAY

Rife

Pronunciation: RYFE (Adjective)
Meaning: Rife usually describes things that are very common and often — though not always — bad or unpleasant. Rife is also commonly used in the phrase "rife with" to mean "copiously supplied" or "having a large amount of; full of." Unlike most adjectives, rife is not used before a noun.
Origin: English is rife with words that have been handed down to us from Old English — among them, rife. It comes from the Old English adjective rȳfe and first appeared in written form in the 12th century. Its oldest meaning, still in use today, is synonymous with widespread and prevalent; it's more likely, however, than either of those to describe negative things, as in "corruption and greed were rife in City Hall." Most often, rife is used alongside with to mean "abounding." Although rife can be appropriately used for good or neutral things in this sense (and all senses), as in the first sentence of this paragraph, like its synonym and fellow Old English descendant lousy (from the Old English noun lūs, meaning "louse"), it tends to describe things one wishes weren't in such copious supply.
Example: "At a time when TV viewers have infinitely more choices than they have ever had, networks and streaming platforms need to find ways to stand out and to make those viewers feel special. So their overriding goal is to make fans feel as if they're being brought inside the shows they like. DVD features were once rife with this kind of thing, from behind-the-scenes footage to commentary tracks and blooper reels, all of which made their way straight to YouTube." —Don Aucoin, The Boston Globe, 2 Jan. 2025.

Example: "It's too spicy for me, but John will love it: He has a cast iron stomach!"
